

BROTHER OF GENERAL LIAM LYNCH DIES

The death took place at the nursing home of the St. John of God Sisters, Cahercalla, Ennis, on Sunday of Rev. Bro. Michael Placidus Lynch, who for the past 57 years was a member of the Christian Brothers. He was in his 75th year.

Born in Anglesborough, Co. Limerick, he joined the Christian Brothers in 1907 and began teaching in Kilrush in 1909.

Subsequently he taught in Carlow, Clonmel, Enniscorthy, Westland Row and Nenagh before returning to Kilrush in 1946.

Brother of the late General Liam Lynch, he was attached to the C.B.S. in Enniscorthy in 1923 when he received word of his brother being shot. While on his way to his brother's bedside in Clonmel, he was arrested and held for a time. When he eventually arrived in Clonmel his brother had already died.

He is survived by another brother.

The funeral takes place today to Shanakyle, Kilrush.
